Final Research Paper and Annotated Bibliography

For this essay, you will write a research paper concerning the topic of identity that we have been discussing throughout this course. You can choose any subject under identity to research -- culture, race, gender, freedom of speech, nationality, etc. Just make sure that you relate your topic to identity somehow!

This paper should be 10 pages in APA format and should incorporate a minimum of 5 sources cited in the paper.

In addition to your research paper, you will submit an annotated bibliography of 10 sources (5 of them may come from your research paper, but you must incorporate an additional 5 that you find outside of the class). These sources must be peer-reviewed journal articles or books. You may only incorporate 1 news article or other web-page -- otherwise these need to be peer-reviewed sources.

You will write a Research Proposal (due Week 12) that incorporates a short literature review of the four sources you will have chosen up to that point.

Your paper must have the following:

- 10 pages of writing
- APA format
- At least 5 sources, 4 of which must be peer-reviewed sources (from journals, not newspapers)

Your annotated bibliography must have the following:

- APA format
- 10 sources (5 of which can be from your paper, 9 of which must be peer-reviewed journals or books)
- For each source, a 150 word evaluation and summary of the article (who is the author and what is their message, what is it about, and why did you personally include it -- how does it help your research?)
