

INTRODUCTION: The following quiz will help you determine how creative your personality is.

INSTRUCTIONS: Describe each of the following statements as “mostly true” or “mostly false.”

Mostly True	Mostly False
☐	☐	It is generally a waste of time to read magazine articles, Internet articles, and books outside my immediate field of interest.
☐	☐	I frequently have the urge to suggest ways of improving products and services I use.
☐	☐	Taking an elective course outside of my major is (or was, or would be) a time waster.
☐	☐	I am a person of very strong convictions. What is right is right; what is wrong is wrong.
☐	☐	I enjoy it when my boss hands me vague instructions.
☐	☐	Making order out of chaos is actually fun.
☐	☐	Only under extraordinary circumstances would I deviate from my To Do list (or other ways in which I plan my day).
☐	☐	I sometimes use search engines other than Google just to explore something different.
☐	☐	Rules and regulations should not be taken too seriously. Most rules can be broken under unusual circumstances.
☐	☐	Playing with a new idea is fun even if it does not benefit me in the end.
☐	☐	Some of my best ideas have come from building on the ideas of others.
☐	☐	In writing, I try to avoid the use of unusual words and word combinations.
☐	☐	I frequently jot down improvements in the job I would like to make in the future.
☐	☐	I prefer to stay with technology devices I know well rather than frequently updating my equipment or software.
☐	☐	I prefer writing personal notes or poems to loved ones rather than relying on greeting cards.
☐	☐	At one time or another in my life, I have enjoyed doing puzzles.
☐	☐	If your thinking is clear, you will find the one best solution to a problem.

Mostly True	Mostly False
☐	☐	It is best to interact with coworkers who think much like you.
☐	☐	I would readily accept an assignment to a new product development committee.
☐	☐	Tight controls over people and money are necessary to run a successful organization.
