Question 1 Materialist concept of history

The materialist conception of history argues that history is due to material conditions rather than ideas and that the development of social institutions is a result of economic material base.

Key authors: Karl Marx, Ludwig Feuerbach

Significance

This concept inspired the foundation of many communist regimes in the twentieth century

Question 3 Imperialism

Imperialism refers to a state's policy, practice, or advocacy of extending a nation's rule or authority over other nations through direct territorial acquisition or through exercising indirect economic or political domination of other areas.

Significance

The western imperialism resulting from Imperialism resulted in the conversion of Africa and Asia lands into European colonies. Owing to these colonial expansions, frequent colonial collisions were witnessed all over Africa and Asia. Such include the collision between Great Britain and France over Egypt and Sudan, among others.

It also led to the formation of political and military alliances that ultimately led to World war II.

Key authors: Joseph Chamberlain,

Question 4 Guerilla warfare

Refers to using hit-and-run tactics by a small group of combatants against larger, less mobile traditional military or police.

Significance

Traditionally, this tactic has served as a weapon to protest real or imagined wrongs imposed on people by governments or foreigners. These tactics were significant in the fight against colonization.

Key authors: Che Guevara, Walter Laqueur

Question 5 Evolutionary socialism

Evolutionary socialism denotes that socialism can be achieved through democratic means introduced through the parliament or existing political systems.

Significance

Evolutionally, socialism had a key impact on the advancement of socialism, especially social systems development.

Key authors

Eduard Bernstein
