

College of Business Administration

GUIDELINES

Guidelines for successful project completion

- Search the websites and databases for information on the concept and notion of Covid19 and how it affects financial management decision-making.
- Check whether there are any databases in the UAE or internationally that have already dealt with Covid19 and corporate effects
- Locate sources of information that are credible and well documented
- Search for any analyst reports covering the interaction between Covid19 and financial management decision-making so as to get additional information
- Describe the channels in which Covid19 considerations affect financial management decisions in general by placing emphasis on financing, capital budgeting and working capital decisions of firms.
 - Be specific about the channel description. You start with the standard financial theory underlying financial management decisions and then you describe how Covid19 considerations affects them
 - Describe the channels in which Covid19 considerations affect financial risk-taking decisions by balancing risk and return-based management decisions. Be specific about the channel description. You start with the standard financial risk taking theory underlying financial decisions and then you Covid19 affects them
 - Describe specific channels in which Covid19 considerations affect financial performance and/or competitiveness by looking at specific measures of performance, liquidity, leverage, competition, technological progress, etc. Be specific about the channel description. You start with the standard financial performance analysis underlying corporate decisions and then you Covid19 affects them
 - Use broad comparisons between Covid19-minded firms and non-minded firms
- Start with the main body of the text and leave the writing of the Introduction and the Conclusion towards the end of your work.
- If you use external references, link the analysis/predictions of the references to your analysis and conclusions.
- Structure your report properly based on the literature formats and maintain a balance size and composition for each section in accordance with its importance.
- The structure of your report should be as follows:

• Introduction	(1/2 page)
• Describe the pandemic's characteristics and how it is expected to affect the whole economy	(1-2 pages);
• Describe how the pandemic is expected to affect general management of companies (CLO1)	(1-2 pages);
• Describe how the pandemic is expected to affect specific financial risk-taking of cos (CLO5)	(2 pages);
• Describe how the pandemic is expected to affect specific corporate activity (CLO2/3) as below:	(2 pages)
• Conclusion	(1/2 page)
- Your analysis of the link between Covid19 and financial management decisions should be clear and concise and within the prescribed time/space limits. Unnecessary length of text will be penalized.
- Submit the deliverables in both soft (Word only – not PDF) and hard copies on time and in proper format.