

ACTIVE LEARNING TEMPLATE: Basic Concept

STUDENT NAME _____

CONCEPT _____ REVIEW MODULE CHAPTER _____

Related Content

(E.G., DELEGATION,
LEVELS OF PREVENTION,
ADVANCE DIRECTIVES)

Managing a client needs knowledge and good management skills in order to offer care to the client effectively.

To successfully manage the client's care, a medical caretaker must develop knowledge and aptitudes in a few zones, including authority, administration, basic reasoning, clinical thinking, clinical judgment, prioritization, time administration, designating, regulating, staff instruction, quality management, performance appraisal, disciplinary activity, compromise, and financially savvy mind.

Underlying Principles

1. Insight into the feelings of individuals from the group
2. Understands the point of view of others
3. Encourages productive feedback and is available to new thoughts
4. Manages feelings and diverts them in a positive manner, which thusly enables the group to achieve its objectives
6. Committed to the conveyance of top notch customer care
7. Refrains from judgment in dubious or candidly charged circumstances until the point when realities are assembled

Nursing Interventions

WHO? WHEN? WHY? HOW?

1. Promoting the use of evidence based care resulting in improved client care outcomes
2. Providing clients with needed education to decrease or eliminate future medical costs associated with future complications.
3. Enhance knowledge and understanding of the facility's policies and procedures.
4. Provide client care consistent with these policies and procedures.
5. Document client care thoroughly and according to facility guidelines
6. Assist with provision of education or training necessary to improve the performance of staff.
7. Act as a role model by practicing in accordance with the established standard.
8. Assist with re evaluation of staff performance by collection of information/data at a specified time.