Effective coordination of the clients care calls for the collaboration of the healthcare team. To effectively coordinate client care, a nurse must have an understanding of collaboration with the interprofessional team, principles of case management, continuity of care (including consultations, referrals, transfers, and discharge planning), and motivational principles to encourage and empower self, staff, colleagues, and other members of the interprofessional team.

Underlying Principles

1. Case manager nurses do not usually provide direct client care.
2. Case managers usually oversee a caseload of clients who have similar disorders or treatment regimens.
3. Case managers in the community coordinate resources and services for clients whose care is based in a residential setting.
4. The goal of case management is to avoid fragmentation of care and control cost.
5. A case manager can be a nurse, social worker, or other designated health care professional
6. A critical or clinical pathway or care map can be used to support the implementation of clinical guidelines and protocols

Nursing Interventions

WHO? WHEN? WHY? HOW?

1. Reporting the customer's status to different medical attendants and the supplier.
2. Coordinating the discharge of a client.
3. Facilitating referrals and the utilization of group assets.
3. Facilitating the progression of care gave by individuals from the social insurance group.
4. Acting as a delegate of the customer and as a contact while working together with the supplier and different individuals from the medicinal services group
