Introduction The paper provides a clear introduction to the case study. This includes the information about the building (size, occupancy, use, etc.), previous certifications as well as those being pursued. Remember that this section identifies factors such as the environment which you will need to research beyond the information in the case study.	15.0 pts Full Marks	13.0 pts	10.0 pts	7.0 pts	4.0 pts	0.0 pts No Marks	15.0 pts

Body analysis, pros, and cons The body of the paper must provide a detailed analysis of the building, its systems, material choices, and the level of participation from the occupants. You should include certifications that were or should have been pursued. Again, the video does provide some examples.	20.0 pts Full Marks	18.0 pts	15.0 pts	12.0 pts	8.0 pts	5.0 pts	0.0 pts No Marks	20.0 pts

Body, course relation The body should also provide course material tie-in. Every week the modules covered topics from embodied energy, active and passive systems and lights to green material selection and certification. Even biomimicry should be considered in the discussion. Be sure to include these discussions where appropriate.	20.0 pts Full Marks	18.0 pts	15.0 pts	12.0 pts	8.0 pts	5.0 pts	0.0 pts No Marks	20.0 pts
