

Classmate response: Yi Chen

“ The Lamb”

I believe that the lamb in this poem is a symbol of God's purity. Because it is mentioned in the poem that "Dost thou know who made thee"and" Gave thee life." I have read Blake's poem "The Lamb", which expresses the breath of spring. There are grasslands, children and sheep. There is a sense of innocence in happiness. The poem finally says God is a lamb and also a child. God becomes a warm lamb to protect this child. And reminded not to forget the life and grace given by God.