

PSYC 4900 HISTORY OF PSYCHOLOGY FALL 2020

Create a Meme on an Area of Psychology Project - Goal and Task List

DUE IN BLAZEVIEW ASSIGNMENTS FOLDER (Labeled: "Create a Meme History of Psychology")
ON or BEFORE SUNDAY November 22, 2020 (the folder closes at 11:30 PM)

1. Find an image of the psychologist who stated the quote and put the quote on the image. You can use a meme generator.
2. Each quote should be RELATIVELY SHORT (no more than 150 words – yet, that is pretty long and rare) from that psychologist.
3. You are then to reference the picture, the quote, and then explain the meme and its relevance to psychology.
4. You also should explain why you decided to use this quote.

Please note, you are to create this meme on your own – DO NOT FIND A PICTURE WITH A QUOTE AND EXPLANATION ALREADY IN PLACE. I encourage you to go beyond the psychologists that are covered in our course textbook (PLEASE, NO FREUD – EVERYONE DOES FREUD! – HAVE YOU EVER HEARD OF GUSTAV GILBERT? ROBERT BOLLES? CONWAY LLOYD MORGAN, MISCHEL CABANAC? ARNOLD BUSS?)

Think about finding a quote related to an area of psychology that interests you.

General Scoring Rubric for This Project (5 points or each component – Please note that points can range from 0-10 depending on the issue)
Meets	Does Not Meet Expectations
Picture and quote from psychologist with APA references for where obtained each.	Person is not a psychologist, quote not from that person, quote is not correct, incorrect APA reference
Quote meaning is explained as how it relates to psychology (what is its importance to psychology?).	Not discussed adequately/in detail.
Quote is explained on personal relevance to you, the student (what is its importance to you?).	Not discussed adequately and in detail.
Proper grammar and spelling and problems with APA referencing	Significant grammar and spelling errors