What is the purpose of this source's information?
Who is the most appropriate audience for this information?
What information is provided by this source?
What do you conclude from this source?
What cautions do you raise about the limits of this source?
What particularly interesting/valuable things could a reader learn from this source?
Author(s) and year

Table for Primary Source
What was the purpose of the study?
Who did the author use in the study?
How did the study produce data for research variables?
What were the major steps in performing the study?
What were the results?
What does the author conclude?
What cautions do you raise about the limits of this study?
What cautions does the researcher raise about interpreting the study?
What particularly interesting/valuable things could a reader learn from this study?
Author(s) and year
