

1. Forensic Psychology: Select an infamous serial killer and perform an analysis of this individual's motivation, in terms of at least two of the four learning theories.

Prepare a 5- 7 page transcript for police officers, explaining the behavior of serial killers in terms of established learning theories and theories of motivation.

Address the following in your talk:

Identification of intrinsic and extrinsic rewards in the killers' behaviors.

Demonstration of application of theory-based motivation (expectancy-value, self-worth, social comparison, and so forth) for how serial killers may have been motivated to learn such violent behavior

2.Ethical Considerations Paper :Prepare a 3 page paper, specifically identifying ethical pitfalls in client motivation that practicing psychologists should take care to avoid. Be sure to reference the American Psychological Association guidelines

Format your paper consistent with APA guidelines.