Due Sunday by 11:59pm Points 100 Submitting a file upload

File Types doc, docx, and pdf

The Global Citizens Project for this course consists of a 5-page paper that integrates insights from at least 7 (and no more than 10) peer-reviewed research articles. You will use the Broad Model of Interdisciplinary Process, following the detailed instructions provided in Chapters 10-12 and Appendix D of your textbook. Your paper will report on an environmental issue in a country other than the United States, report on the same environmental issue in the United States, and compare and contrast the way these environmental issues are addressed in each country. This Project will serve as the "final" substantive assessment in the course.

You will submit a document in MS Word or pdf format (only). To get started, I recommend that you complete the following tasks:

- Review the "General Instructions for Preparing Written Assignments" section in the course Syllabus
- Read Chapters 10-12 of your textbook
- See the end of Appendix D of your textbook (pp. 383-387) for an example applying Step 5 and Step 6 of the Broad Model

Your Global Citizens Project should contain the following elements:

Title Page:

- A title
- Your name

Introduction: approximately 1 page

- State the research question and/or define the problem
- Justify using an interdisciplinary approach

Literature Review: 3-4 pages

- Identify relevant disciplines and provide a summary overview of the key insights from your 7-10 research articles
- Critically analyze disciplinary insights into the problem and discuss their sources of conflict

Conclusion: approximately 1 page

- Reflect on how using an interdisciplinary approach has provided a more comprehensive understanding of the problem

- Provide a summary overview of the main highlights of your research

References:

- Listed correctly according to your chosen citation style (APA, ASA, or Chicago)

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: The instructions state that we need to make use of "at least 7 (and no more than 10) peer-reviewed research articles." Can I use the 5 articles I found during the Proposal and Annotated Bibliography assignment? What about our textbook?

A: You may use up to 5 of your references from the Proposal and Annotated Bibliography assignment in this Global Citizens Project. Citing your textbook (while appropriate) does not count toward the seven reference minimum or the 10-reference maximum.

Q: I want to write about a different topic than the one I chose for my Proposal and Annotated Bibliography. Is that okay?

A: Yes. You may change topics for whatever reason if you so desire.

Q: Does my Title Page count toward my total page length? What about my References?

Q: Can I submit the assignment as a Google Doc, provide a link, or use another method than Canvas to submit this assignment?

A: No. Only Microsoft Word (".doc" or ".docx" files) or ".pdf" files are accepted for this assignment. The assignment must be submitted to Canvas, and will not be accepted via email or any other method.

Q: I would like someone to give me some writing advice. What should I do?

A: The University Writing Center (UWC) is a free resource for USF undergraduates and graduates. At the UWC, a trained writing consultant will work individually with students on anything they are writing (in or out of class), at any point in the writing process from brainstorming to editing. Appointments are recommended, but not required. For more information or to make an appointment, visit the UWC website
