

STUDENT NAME _____

PROCEDURE NAME ACCIDENT AND INJURY PREVENTION

REVIEW MODULE CHAPTER _____

Description of Procedure

In the medical practition there are numerous situations that a nurse is required to do activities that will prevent accidents and injury.

Indications

Protective gear is used at all times
Level of cleanliness is high.
Competent personnel.

CONSIDERATIONS

Nursing Interventions (pre, intra, post)

Pre-proper knowledge of quality standards.

Intra- Regular checks to ensure quality is maintained.

Post- Give feedback on the likelines of injury and accidents occuring.

Outcomes/Evaluation

Death
Injury to a patient
Susceptibility to being sick

Client Education

The patient should understand the the hospital is safe and that the people employed there do all in their power to make it safe.

Potential Complications

Low hygiene levels
Bad policies and procedures
Lack of proper management and leadership.
Bad response to laws and regulations.

Nursing Interventions

Educate and act as role models to the soceity.

Become more informed and vigilant to fight challenging and changing situations.