

GRADED PROJECT

This graded assignment is an opportunity for you to demonstrate your mastery of the coding systems and related guidelines covered in your coursework. In this project, you'll complete Coding Challenges from your course textbook, Pearson's Comprehensive Medical Coding. You'll also need to use your ICD-10-CM/PCS coding manuals and your CPT coding book. You can also use your program learning guides and the SpeedECoder software provided with your course textbook.

You'll complete 100 Coding Challenges as your graded project, and each one is worth 1 point. Your total possible score is 100 points. Keep in mind that the results of this project will count as one lesson grade in your program /average.

GETTING STARTED

As mentioned, you'll complete a series of Coding Challenges from your textbook that will serve as your graded project. You should compile all of your answers into one word-processing document to submit to the school for evaluation. At the top of your document, please include your full name and your student number. Name your document with your student number as follows: XXX_MCH_Graded_Project. Instructions for submitting your completed project to the school can be found at the end of this project file.

For each Coding Challenge, add the appropriate heading and textbook page number, followed by the question number and your answer. For example:

2. [your answer]

Project Details

Read through each of the following Coding Challenges referenced below. In a word-processing file, answer each of the questions. Where "Medical Record" is referenced, read through the mini medical record on the corresponding page in your textbook and assign the correct codes to the coding scenario.

Once you've completed and documented all of the Coding Challenges in your word-processing file, you'll submit the file to the school for evaluation.
