

Milestone 3: Draft Argument Structures

#1. A Catalyst For Change

How did California's status change after WWII and what were the most significant economic and social consequences that originated during that period?

1. Introduction
 - a. State Thesis
 - b. Identify the status of california before and after WWII
 - c. Identify the status of california before and after WWII
 - d. Describe the Post-WWII Period
2. Economic Consequence & Change One
 - a. Identify significant economic consequence
 - b. Provide significant examples of economic change
3. Economic Consequence & Change Two
 - a. Identify significant economic consequence
 - b. Provide significant examples of economic change
4. Social Consequence & Change One
 - a. Identify significant social consequence
 - b. Provide significant examples of social change
5. Social Consequence & Change Two
 - a. Identify significant social consequence
 - b. Provide significant examples of social change
6. Conclusion
 - a. Evaluate
 - b. Restate Thesis
 - c. Draw conclusions

#2. Civil Unrest

Identify the successful groups and contrast their outcomes with the unsuccessful to explain how Californians pursued social, political and economic protection & participation from 1940 to present, what roles did the major political parties play in advancing civil rights?

1. Introduction
 - a. State Thesis
 - b. Identify time period
 - c. Explain the needs for change in California
2. Social Protection & Participation
 - a. Identify successful groups and their outcomes
 - b. Identify unsuccessful groups and their outcomes
 - c. Identify major political parties involved
3. Political Protection & Participation
 - a. Identify successful groups and their outcomes
 - b. Identify unsuccessful groups and their outcomes
 - c. Identify major political parties involved
4. Economic Protection & Participation
 - a. Identify successful groups and their outcomes
 - b. Identify unsuccessful groups and their outcomes
 - c. Identify major political parties involved
5. Conclusion
 - a. Contrast outcomes of successful and unsuccessful groups
 - b. Determine what roles major political parties played
 - c. Evaluate
 - d. Restate Thesis
 - e. Draw Conclusions

#3. The Onset of Environmentalism in California

Interpret and evaluate the most significant environmental conflicts of our period, then place each conflict in historical context while identifying arguments in support and in opposition to the changes being proposed.

1. Introduction
 - a. Define environmentalism
 - b. State Thesis
 - c. Identify time period
 - d. Identify the most significant environmental conflicts
2. Significant Conflict One
 - a. Evaluate environmental conflict
 - b. Place conflict in historical context
 - c. Identify arguments in support of the changes being proposed
 - d. Identify arguments in opposition of the changes being proposed
3. Significant Conflict Two
 - a. Evaluate environmental conflict
 - b. Place conflict in historical context
 - c. Identify arguments in support of the changes being proposed
 - d. Identify arguments in opposition of the changes being proposed
4. Significant Conflict Three
 - a. Evaluate environmental conflict
 - b. Place conflict in historical context
 - c. Identify arguments in support of the changes being proposed
 - d. Identify arguments in opposition of the changes being proposed
5. Conclusion
 - a. Evaluate
 - b. Restate Thesis
 - c. Draw Conclusions