Make sure that you include a self-reflection on your essay: based on the instructions, and the criteria, identify the quality elements in your essay. What have you done well? On a 6 point scale, what grade do you think you have earned? Why?

A few tips...

Have you read your essay aloud at least once?

Do you feel good about your writing?

Read the instructions again. Have you answered the question?

RE-read the assignment rubric and the example.

Do you have one main idea/THESIS that is clearly supported by the rest of your essay?

Is there a clear relationship between paragraphs?

you offered enough details?

Is your writing clear?

Have you avoided unnecessarily big words that you don't understand and awkward sentence constructions?

Are you satisfied with the introduction?

Are you satisfied that the conclusion works to bring your writing to a close?

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is taking ideas from someone else's work and passing it off as your own.

Regardless of whether you copy a paragraph, a sentence, or an idea, it is plagiarism. Even if you put in footnotes and a bibliography, you still cannot cut and paste sentences or paragraphs from sources into your work.

You can take snippets of quotes, and blend them into your words as long as you credit the source.

If you include an insight about any aspect of a text that you found online, for example, even if you put it into your own words, you must still identify where that idea came from.

Assignments that are plagiarized will receive a zero.
