Organizational Diversity

Organizational diversity is the differences between individuals, that are given to them by an organization

Cultural diversity

The existence of numerous cultural groupings within society is referred to as cultural diversity.

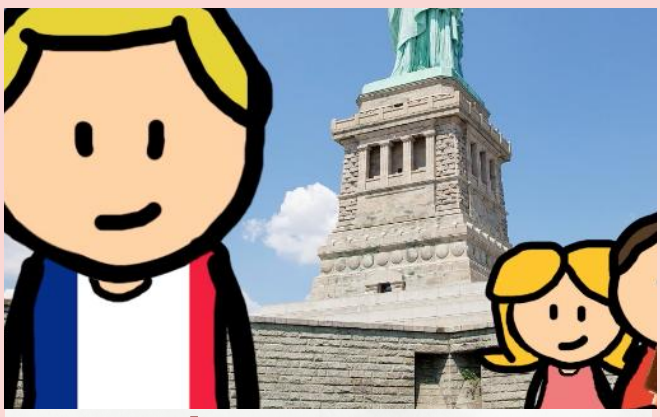

Workforce diversity

Workforce diversity is the similarities and differences amongst employees

Group multiculturalism minorities, including cultures, races, and ethnicities, are entitled to special recognition of their uniqueness within a dominant political culture.

Ethnocentricity

This is the concept believes a dominant ethnic group is superior to other ethnic groups

Domestic corporation

A domestic corporation operates entirely within its native nation.

Stereotyping

A false image or belief that many people have about something or a group based on how they appear on the outside

Multinational corporation

A type of business that deals with foreign direct investment.

