

General Psychology (PSYC 1)
Final paper rubric

	0-5	6-10	11-15	16-20
COMPLETENESS OF PAPER	Paper is brief and incomplete.	Paper is brief and only partially complete.	Paper is somewhat brief yet mostly complete.	Paper is complete and thorough.
DESCRIPTION OF CONCEPT	The descriptions of the concepts are brief and incomplete.	The descriptions of the concepts are brief and only partially complete.	The descriptions of the concepts are somewhat brief yet mostly complete.	The descriptions of the concepts are complete and thorough.
APPLICATION OF THE CONCEPT TO EVERYDAY LIFE	The applications of the concepts to everyday life are brief and incomplete.	The applications of the concepts to everyday life are brief and only partially complete.	The applications of the concepts to everyday life are somewhat brief yet mostly complete.	The applications of the concepts to everyday life are complete and thorough.
CLARITY OF PAPER	Paper is extremely unclear and incoherent. Ideas are not expressed clearly.	Paper is mostly unclear and incoherent. Most ideas are not expressed clearly.	Paper is mostly clear and coherent. Most ideas are expressed clearly.	Paper is clear and coherent. All ideas are expressed clearly.
CRITICAL AND REFLECTIVE THINKING	Paper shows no evidence of critical or reflective thinking. No details are provided that demonstrate that the student has reflected on the concepts.	Paper shows very little evidence of critical and reflective thinking. Very few details are provided that demonstrate that the student has reflected on the concepts.	Paper shows evidence of critical and reflective thinking. Some details are provided that demonstrate that the student has reflected on the concepts.	Paper shows strong evidence of critical and reflective thinking. Many details are provided that demonstrate that the student has reflected on the concepts.

SCORE: /100 =