

ACTIVE LEARNING TEMPLATE: Basic Concept

STUDENT NAME _____

CONCEPT _____ REVIEW MODULE CHAPTER _____

Related Content

(E.G., DELEGATION,
LEVELS OF PREVENTION, ADVANCE DIRECTIVES)

Passing on is a procedure. It includes the discontinuance of physical, mental, social and profound life here on earth. Commonly, before a man kicks the bucket, there is a course of occasions that are all things considered known as the diminishing procedure. The withering procedure is the progress that a man experiences that at last closures in death. Every individual's death procedure and passing is individual. Passing on is an individualized affair and every individual kicks the bucket in their own particular manner and time (ELNEC, 2010). Patients who realize that they are passing on will generally make their desires thought about where they need to spend their last days and hours. It is essential that the medical caretaker associated with that patient's administer to the patient's desires for their finish of life. This determines whether the person needs a postmortem after death or not..

Underlying Principles

The following are principles for Postmortem patients.

1. Assistive Devices
prosthetic limbs
hearing aid assistive devices
2. Compensatory techniques eating utensils
telecommunication devices
dentures
Complementary and Alternative Therapies
music therapy
relaxation therapy
3. Elimination irrigations nasogastric
urethral catheter tubes
wash frequently
barrier creams/ointments
4. Mobility/Immobility skin breakdown contractual external fixation device
halo traction anti-embolic stockings
sequential
5. Nutrition and Oral Hydration body mass index (BMI) intake and output
edema

Nursing Interventions

WHO? WHEN? WHY? HOW?

1. Gather supplies
The nurse ought to collect supplies such as gloves, bandages, coverings, cloths to clean, shroud etc before operating the patient
2. Positioning
Move the client to the stretcher or morgue cart and elevate the head.
3. Clean the room.
The postmortem room should be clean and safe
4. Give the people some space
This gives them raw emotions as they prepare for their dead be operated.