Project Overview

- The project is based on changing the chairs and the tables in my restaurant.
- I have been working to change the tables and the chairs because my clients have been complaining.
- However, until now there are improvement in the restaurant.
- The clients have been giving feedback that the tables and the chairs were small but now they have been changed and they feel comfortable.
- Although not everything have been changed but the restaurant looks a bit different.

Project Goals

- The main aim that I have been working on is the issue of management.
- Management has been seen as a means that can a tool for success or failure of the business.
- This is why I am working on this goal to ensure that my restaurant is well managed.
- This is to give me the better understanding of the way to manage.
- How to manage a small restaurant and succeed instead of failing.

Project Approach

- The approach in this project is survey.
- This was to get the best time of the managers from other restaurants.
- Through survey I have had time to get the way other restaurants like mine are run.
- I believe that this approach is getting the expected results.
- This is because I have time of my own to make the step I need.

Project Deliverables

- So far there is good progress in the expectation of the project.
- I have been making schedules for different interviews.
- From the interviews I have been able to collect data for the project.
- The data collected have been helpful to boost the management of the restaurant.
- The needed idea for the restaurant has been successful.

Requirements

- The requirement was all on the right timing.
- So far I have settled well the time and I get the approval of the managers to make time for my interviews.
- The managers require to have the interview when time off, which can be worrying.
- However, it is difficult since I have to work and at the same time settle for the interviews.

Assumption

- I still believe that the real actors of such restaurants have the answers to the problems with my restaurant.
- This is because they have the right information can be useful for the success of my restaurant.
- The managers have been able to manage their restaurant therefore, they have the idea of what I need in management.

Limits and milestone

- The scope of the project is progressing well and I am comfortable because the limit is fine.
- I am going on with the conversations with the employees in various restaurants to hear their views.
- this is important for more information that is relevant on the issue and the situation of my restaurant.
- I am concerned to deliver and make the changes in time to meet the deadline.
- This is in order to present the project in time because I am getting to the end of the project.
