

Week 7 Cause and Effect Essay: Finding Sources to Support Your Claim

1. Professor Newgren will ask you to suggest a topic to begin your search for sources.
2. The suggested areas of social justice from the assignment are:

Gender inequality	Racial inequality	Economic inequality
Disability inequality	Age inequality	Ethnic/national inequality
Linguistic/language inequality	Educational inequality	Political inequality

3. Use Cause and Effect worksheet that we used last week to suggest a specific topic from the general areas of social justice suggested above.

In class we discussed areas of racial or ethnic inequality.

Now, let's try focusing on economic inequality. Using the list method, we can suggest economic inequalities issues like:

Health care Education Opportunity

How can we turn these into a cause and effect paper?

4. Remember that there are two ways to format your paper.

- A report informs the reader about something that is wrong:

Identify an effect and trace its causes.

- Effect:

Many college students are unable to complete college because of financial difficulties.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

- A proposal suggests that a certain effect will lead to a result:

Describe a cause and look into what will be the effects of that situation.

- Cause: High Schools like Fremont High produce many drop outs and the students who do graduate are not prepared to succeed in the high tech workplace.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____
