Annotated Bibliography Assignment

The subject of your article that you write your annotated bibliography on needs to relate to the subject of your group's presentation (i.e, substance abuse, domestic violence). Each person in the group must use a different article.

ARTICLE

Using the One Search option in the FAU library site, select the following criteria: (a) full-text; (b) peer review; (c) journal; and (d) from 2015 to the present.

FORMAT

For each of your sources, you should include an entry with relevant publication information in APA format.

ANNOTATIONS

Your annotation for your article should do the following:

- summarize the source
- identify the piece's thesis
- rely primarily on your own words and phrasing- summary and paraphrase (do not quote directly from the article's abstract)
- discuss the source's strengths and weaknesses. For instance, does the item offer a good introduction to the issue? Does the item deal with a particular aspect of the issue that is especially relevant to the topic of ethics or boundaries in clinical relationships?
- describe how this piece will contribute to your group's presentation.

STRUCTURE OF YOUR ANNOTATIONS

Length: normally annotations constitute one paragraph and are approximately 800 words long, including the citation, with a goal of being concise. HOWEVER, for this assignment because you are adding additional information that would normally not be in an annotated bibliography, your word count will be longer.
