

INTERVIEWEES NAME: MARY SMITH

DATE:

TRANSCRIPT

1. What is socialization? this is the training of an individual through educational agencies and social controls which enables him to become a member of a particular society.
2. How important is socialization? socialization is reflected in the way an individual behaves. An individual is supposed to satisfy their own needs to avoid gaps that may occur between an individual and its community.
3. How important is the relationship between a child/family in growth? Families provide not only care but also social interpretation on reality. It s within the family that a child's personality is developed.
4. What was the relationship between kids from a rich family and poor families? During our time rich kids would isolate themselves because they consider themselves as knowledgeable. I felt pity for them since according to me it seemed like they were experiencing lower life satisfaction.
5. How can we reduce technology on the socialization of children? technology has contributed in one way or another to our social and personal relationships making us closer to automatic relations. I don't think if there will ever be a way to reduce this.
6. Why do people fail to value people? Most reasons are situational, if a person is born in a competitive instead of a cooperative atmosphere, they are likely to fail to value others.
7. What is the role of the family in protecting society from extremism? Extremist governments want to have access to every child by overworking parents and offering extensive day-care to our children. There was this time where I used to work at an HR department of a science research center for 20years. My work was to go outside the country and conduct meetings and conferences It was so tiresome and there were no retirement benefits even when you serve the company for 20-30 years. I had to quit this job and apply as a part-time nurse in a family hospital. I have been working there for 4 years now.

8. In schools' teacher's intent to bring up conferences. What do you feel about this?
Is it a social or academic gathering? School is one of the agents of socialization, bringing up conferences also brings together people from different places. This allows networks to build and expanded and jobs to be advertised.
9. Where is the most likely place to find friends? During our time, we used to go to dances, clubs and social gatherings. You can also make friends at work. Nowadays, through technology, it has even become much easier to make friends.
10. What are your recent social activities? Right now, am a quilt club member and I love golfing and camping with my husband.
11. The biggest transformation you have seen in society? The biggest transformation is the gap between the rich and the poor. My grandson is in an aristocratic college right now. We are slightly rich but he still has good connections with the wealthy kids.
12. What are the effects on children's romantic relationships who witness domestic violence? Violence may impact a child either positively or negatively, later on, one may end up unmarried or in a marriage where they want dominance.