

ACTIVE LEARNING TEMPLATE: Therapeutic Procedure

STUDENT NAME _____

PROCEDURE NAME Gastrointestinal disorders

REVIEW MODULE CHAPTER _____

Description of Procedure

This is a condition which involves the gastrointestinal track (stomach, esophagus, small intestine, large intestine, and rectum).

Indications

Abdominal pain
Peptic ulcers diseases
Nausea and vomiting
Dyspepsia
Acid reflux
Bloating
Gallstone Pancreatitis

Outcomes/Evaluation

Assessment of functional abdominal pain and irritable bowel syndrome can be evaluated.

Potential Complications

Radiation enteritis
Diarrhea
Bowel obstructions
Impactions
Constipation

CONSIDERATIONS

Nursing Interventions (pre, intra, post)

History of dietary changes
Observation of gastrointestinal losses frequency
Monitoring of volume and nature of gastrointestinal losses
Control of symptoms
Replacement of nutrients

Client Education

Education comprises all form of complication associated with Gastrointestinal disorders, for instance, the client are taught on overview of constipation and treatment for constipation.

Nursing Interventions

For constipation the nursing intervention applied involves reduced frequency of defecation accompanied incomplete passage of stool.