Job Description
Overview: There is an opening for an individual that has "reckon'd a thousand acres much...[and has]... reckon'd the earth much." (Whitman) Whom with wisdom and patience may "take things" (Whitman) and interpret them from their "experience and knowledge of a lifetime to bear on [any] human problem" (Russell). This position requires a strong divine being who has the ability to lead and to guide. This is a servant- leader position that requires full time commitment and dedication. The position entails listening, and paying attention to everything that exists on this planet, and universe; this is important because they will have to show they "possess the origin of all poems." (Whitman) Understanding how the world is connected, is important so that the individual can continue their work through the interconnection of all things.
Role and Responsibilities
Your new official title will be God. (Note: Multiple titles will be used to identify the omnipotent being that you will become). Due to that fact it is expected that you... • Be "mindful of the world immediately around you" (Ellerbee) , as the Father Almighty, everything and all is your concern. Appreciation of beauty in the surroundings is necessary to see all forms of life as having intrinsic value. • Not everyone will understand why you will do the things you do, but it is necessary that "law and order exist for the purpose of establishing justice" so "that when they fail in this purpose they become the dangerously structured dams that block the flow of social progress." (King) This failure is essential so that mortal humans can experience all that it is to be human and appreciate life and the "discovery of oneself through other" means. (Ellerbee)

- Love all your creations, and forgive all your creations. Don't live life for them, unless it's their will.

- Vows are important to keep, because all existing things are your creation, it is essential that you love all those things, especially humans, since (as required) you would have lived through the human experience. You must consider "if [you] would trade everything [you have] hoped for and been given as [God] for everything [you have ever] yearned for and desired as a man." (Russell).

Duties and Tasks Expected to Fulfill

- No bias. All beings should be loved alike
- Balance in actions is essential, like that of the idea of the yin and yang.

- Freewill must be respected. All individuals should live a life cycle according to their life choices, and unless desired then God, the Father Almighty⁴ should interfere to help when necessary, and should beyond all things serve as a teacher that guides through the process, not live the life for the individual infringing on their life experience.
- It will be essential that as God you are "silent on the matter"⁵ (Russell). Leadership should be transparent. That means the world should be able to function with the gifts⁶ you have given individuals and that those gifts serve as empowerment to the human potential.

Ability and Physical Demands

As an omnipotent entity...

- Self-motivation will be needed when all else fails.
- Mental and physical endurance is necessary to carry out job in an abiding environment.
- Ability to adapt to the change in the world; as the more of the world [and universe] becomes known then more questions, doubts, and concerns will arise. Wisdom, understanding and elasticity are needed to overcome these obstacles.
