Cap Discussion: Pregnancy and COVID-19

Question 1

The first step that I intend to implement to transition my paper to a presentation is creating visual aids and textual material. Secondly, I will create short and effective notes not to forget anything important and reduce the chances of losing my trail of thought. Thirdly, I would rehearse the presentation and practice completing the presentation within the allocated time.

Question 2

My main focus on the topic would be considerations that should be included in the management of pregnant patients with suspected or confirmed COVID-19 Infection and the kind of care presented in pregnancy and childbirth during this period. Also, my focus will be on the treatment options currently available for COVID-19 Infected expectant mothers and post-delivery recommendations. Lastly, I will also explore the safety of COVID-19 vaccine usage on pregnant women.

Question 3

The first question I have about using the technology for my presentation is how effective my presentation will be using this option instead of using another technology to deliver my presentation because various options are available.

The second question is the limitations when it comes to using this form of technology in presentation.

Question 4

I will use Microsoft PowerPoint to record my presentation and timings to give it a polished feel. By so doing, I will revisit the presentation to assess my understanding of the topic and confidence level. Similarly, I will be able to re-order and modify elements to a chronological flow of ideas.

Question 5

The essential tips and tricks I have learned to deliver a powerful presentation are preparing while identifying the main goals. Likewise, I have learned that it is vital to write down short notes to guide me during the presentation, memorize the presentation, and practice. Lastly, it is also essential to make the presentation interactive and track the allocated time to deliver a compelling presentation.

Question 6

I am very confident in presenting my paper via video because it would provide the opportunity for self-study and, in addition, make it easy to deliver the presentation. Likewise, the video presentation would provide room for effective learning because I can always refer to it with my peers; thus, I am confident in presenting via video. Besides, I am confident that I can present via video because it would allow me to test myself, looking into my presentation skills to find out what I can improve.

Question 7

My main strength in giving video presentations is my personality because it is a critical aspect of everyone's functioning. Therefore, having a vibrant personality, I would efficiently deliver a video presentation. On the contrary, my weakness is talking too fast and rushing through to conclude faster. However, I am improving my delivery.

Question 8

I intend to maximize my strength by preparing adequately for the presentation since a good presentation translates into confidence during a presentation. Also, I will show some passion for the topic because it is proven that a presenter's emotional appeal makes the presentation much more effective. Lastly, I will maximize my strength by practicing my presentation as often as possible to the point that I am acquainted with the subject matter to deliver the presentation with ease.
