

Week 3: Revolution & Early Republic (T4)

4b. I can create a suitable product that responds to the prompt.

Learning Target	Advanced (ADV)	Proficient (PRO)	Approaching (APP)	Incomplete (INC)
4b. I can create a suitable product that responds to the prompt.	I can create a product in which the tone is engaging and appropriate to the audience and purpose.	I can create a product in which the tone is apparent and appropriate to both the audience and purpose.	I can create a product in which consistent tone is attempted and sometimes appropriate to the audience and purpose.	I cannot create a product with any recognizable or appropriate voice.

Directions: You can choose to do a digital presentation or by hand one-pager. If you choose to do a digital presentation you can choose the format. Either format you choose MUST include the below information. Please complete your one pager on a clean sheet of paper. (You can do this by hand and snap a picture and upload it or on a google document or digital resources (such as adobe spark <https://spark.adobe.com>-free use your district email or google slides.)

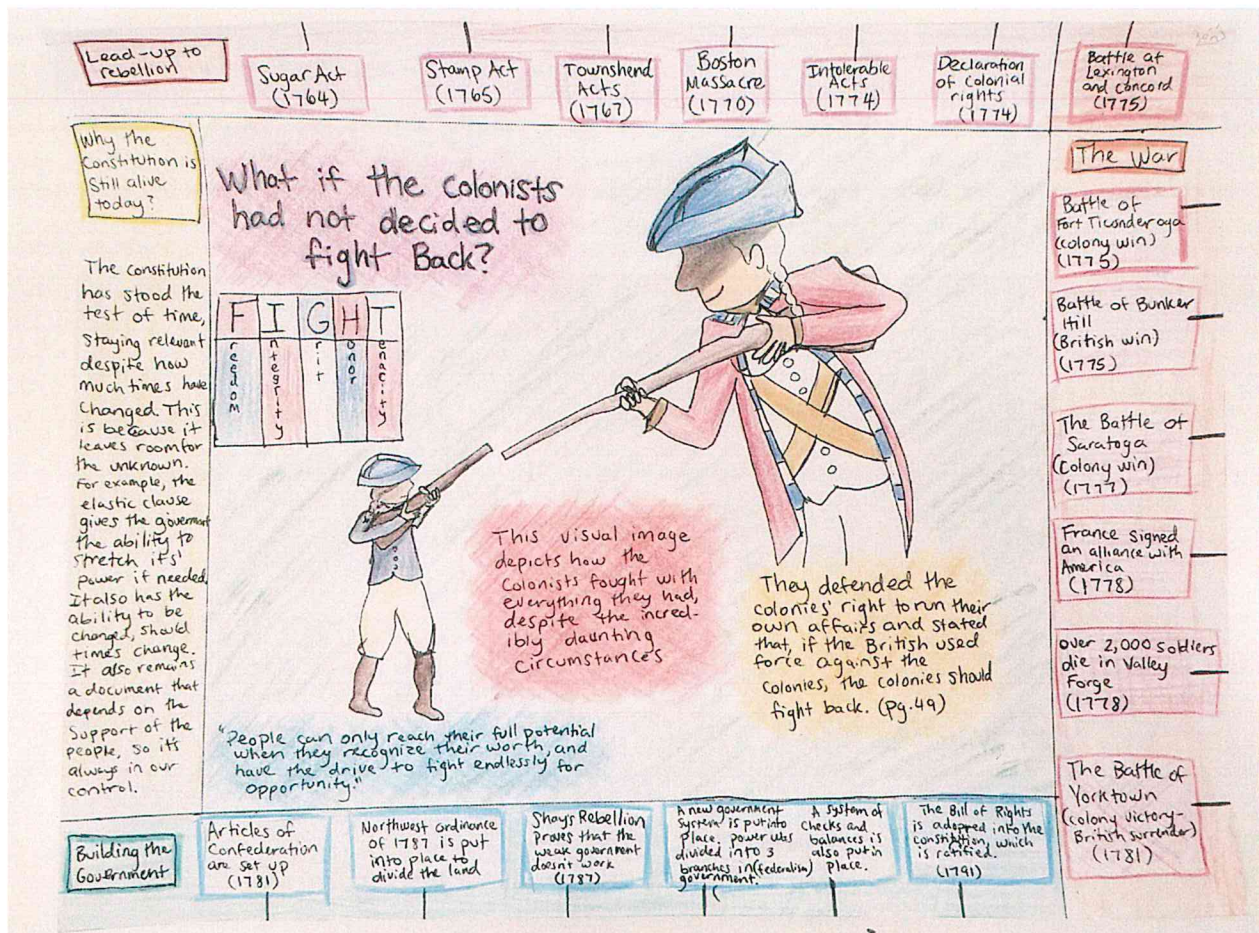

Prompt: What struggles did the American colonists face in order to free themselves from British rule and establish independence?

Audience: Grade School student who has never learned about the American Revolution.

Student Examples: Click here. - Attached

T4: I can create a suitable product that responds to the prompt.	Incomplete	Checklist (Proficiency)	Advanced Component
Main Ideas: I can describe conflicts between Great Britain and the American colonies escalated, until the colonists finally declared their independence. I can describe the key American victories reversed British advances during the American Revolutionary War. I can describe the American leaders who created the Constitution as a blueprint of government for the United States. I can describe George Washington as the first president, and how the United States began creating a working government for its new nation.	Activity not attempted, or attempted but not completed or mastered	Include the following things in your one-pager: [] Select 1 Quotation from the passage that best represents this era in time. [] Visual image that best represents this period in history with 1-2 sentence caption below that explains how this visual represents this time period [] Create a one-sentence "slogan" to describe the central purpose of your one-pager (should relate to your own purpose and design) [] 5 Words that describe the "essential knowledge" statement you have selected. [] A phrase that explains the "main ideas" statement you have selected. [] A personal statement about what you read or saw [] 1 question that you develop during your research that can be answered by you or your one-pager [] Identify the steps/events leading to the revolution [] Identify the steps/events leading to the formation of the US government [] Put a border around ¼ of your 1-pager that is symbolic of your topic [] Be purposeful of the arrangement of your 1-pager [] 4 color minimum	Include the following things in your one-pager to demonstrate an advanced level of understanding. [] Compare and Contrast the American Revolution to a different country's Revolution OR [] Analyze with the Constitution has stood the test of time and the key reasons the Constitution still exists today and the flaws that have created disagreement

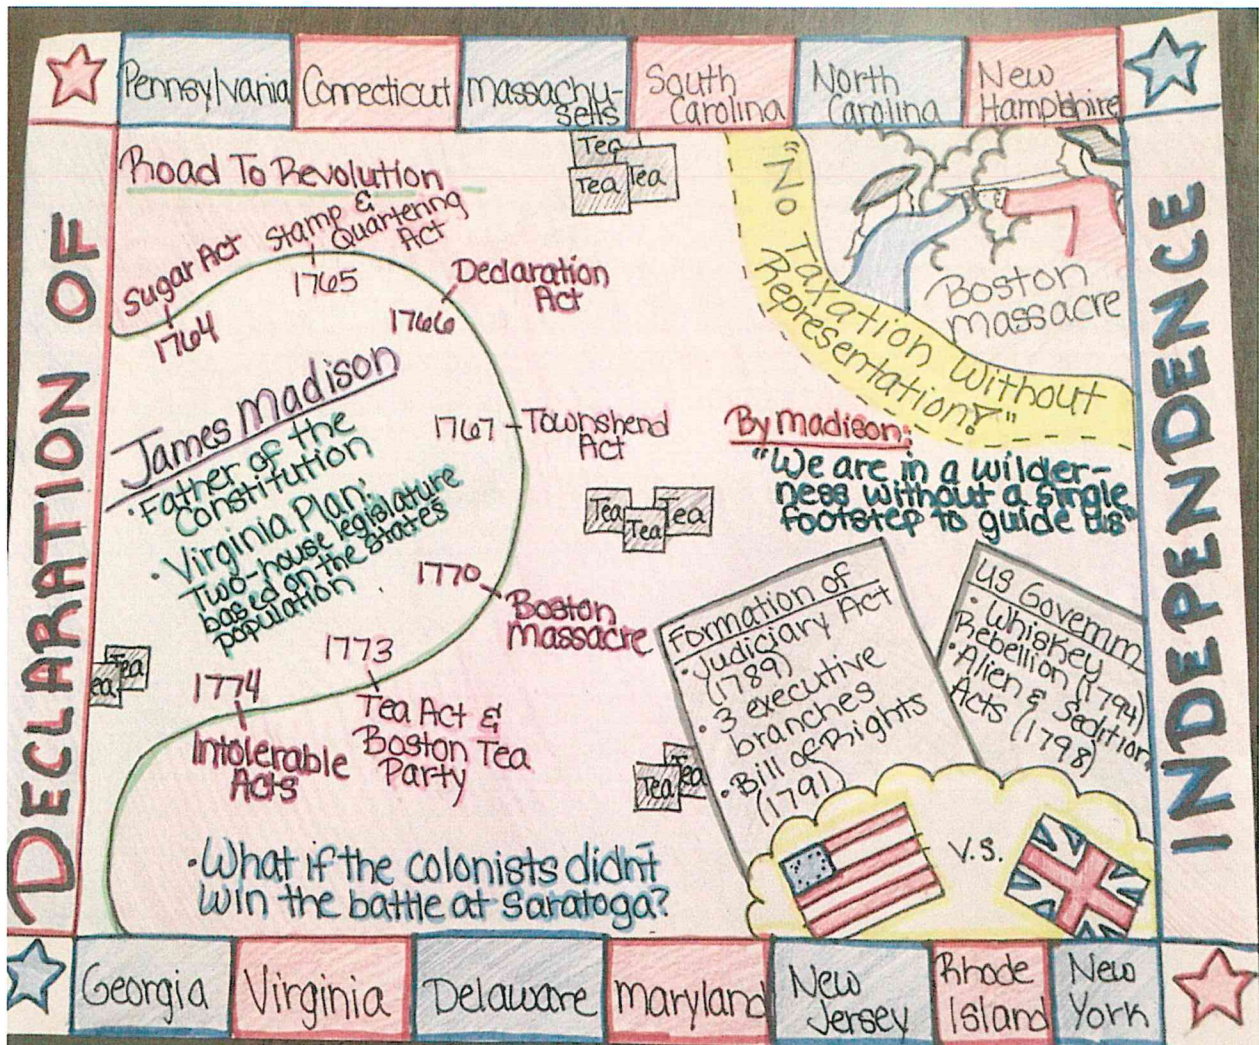

Example

Example

Example

5th Grade
March 1976

America's Road To Independence!

The American people fought and won their freedom and independence and our freedom.

VS.

George Washington
John Adams
Thomas Jefferson
Benjamin Franklin

[illegible]

Formation of the U.S.
Government

and the American

I was a for a person between Britain and the American

King George was Prince after the British war. Britain and America were the winners after the American war.

[illegible][illegible]

Strong Brave

statement: I read about many conflicts and battles be colonies that led to the Revolution and the U.S.

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

The Electoral College is a Constitution that has caused In addition, the failure to funding of elections is a disadvantage. Another flaw is between Great Britain

Government: that it doesn't interfere with sex and sexual orientation

[illegible]

The Right of Men to Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness

the people's confidence in the Constitution and its flesh and blood organs is quite sufficient to bring about the changes needed to make an internal democracy work smoothly. It is our changing Americanism, they believe, that must be based on reality, a reality which is still changing. Contrary to the prevalent opinion of our politicians and publicists, they believe the fundamental characteristics of our country have not changed in the last 100 years. The Constitution is throughout its history many disagreements

...the Constitution
...arms also a clear
...in the Constitution
...other aspect of the
...disagreement
...prohibit the private
...law that had created
...the Constitution is
...rights non-existence of lon.