

STUDENT NAME _____

PROCEDURE NAME INFECTION CONTROL

REVIEW MODULE CHAPTER _____

Description of Procedure

In a hospital there are several instances that practitioners work to prevent spread of dangerous diseases.

Indications

Bad policies and procedures.
Failure to cover coughs and sneezes.
Lack of using protective gear such as masks or gloves.

CONSIDERATIONSNursing Interventions (pre, intra, post)

Pre- The nurse ensures that the ailment is not communicable.
Intra- The nurse examines the client and comes up with a diagnosis.
Post- Proper medication and care offered.

Outcomes/Evaluation

Death
Spread of a dangerous disease

Client Education

The client should know and understand the hospital personnel are trained in best practices to ensure little or no cases.

Potential Complications

Lack of cleanliness.
Lack of proper client handling procedures.

Nursing Interventions

Assess presence of risk factors.
Monitor white blood cells count.
Monitor nutritional status of the client.