

Overview

As a high level executive for a Canadian company, you have been assigned to the start up team at the local office abroad. To make sure that you can focus on your primary duties, the Human Resource department has prepared a travel briefing report that will assist in planning your trip and stay during your secondment.

Purpose

This is a major assignment that will have significant impact in your mid term mark. In addition to committing to a country for your summative, you will be developing practical research skills that are beneficial for your globe trotting aspirations.

Requirements:

- The method and assignment of country selection will be determined during class. One country per student.
- Using the corresponding executive memo (travel memorandum), prepare a professional travel briefing report that covers the mentioned topics.

Hints

- Use federal, provincial, and municipal government departments and agencies websites
- Use country consulate and embassy websites
- Use travel websites such as Expedia, Travelocity, etc
- Use the references cited in Wikipedia