IssuesIssue(s) relating to Ahmad

Ahmad copies Alia's photo and puts it on the landing page of his site just like it was on Alia's site. This would have led to the confusion of the clients that Alia's had impressed. This is a form of copyright infringement. Even if Alia has not registered the image with the copyright office, stealing his creative work tends to be business theft.

Issue(s) relating to Hiba

Though Hiba steals the property from Ahmad's site, he is still on the wrong side of the law. This is because he takes another person's property and modifies it. He does not let the owner know about it and does not give the owner credit. This misrepresents the owner of the image.

RulesRules Relevant to Ahmad

Ahmad was found to be guilty since the copyright holder had valid copyright of the image, Ahmad had access to the copyright work and the duplication of the image as outside the expectations.

Rules Relevant to Hiba

Copyright can only be transferred through an express assignment in writing. The requirement governs major license and also assignments of the entirety of a copyright (Purdue University, 2018).

AnalysisAnalysis relating to Ahmad

Ahmad made the image public though he knew that the wonder wanted to use for marketing. Since the image was on the social media platforms he took advantage of that and copyrighted the work.

Analysis relating to Hiba

Based on the analysis, though Hiba copies the image from Ahmad's website and modifies it. He is guilty of copyright infringement. This is because he does not get authority from the owner of the image.

Conclusion relating to Ahmad

Basically, Ahmad is guilty of copyright infringement. He copies an image on Alia's instagram site and posted it on his website. Alia was using the image for advertisement and Ahmed was aware of this but assumed it.

Conclusion relating to Hiba

Just like Ahmed, Hiba is as well guilty of copyright infringement. He copies an image from Ahmed website and modifies it without authority from the owner which makes it a crime.
