Historical Figure: Marilyn Monroe

The historical figure I choose for this essay is Marilyn Monroe. If she were brought back to life in this era, I believe her favorite mobile application would be Instagram. Marilyn Monroe was born in 1926, and she grew to be a sexy woman who was recognized by large brands for embracing her body which was plus size during those days. She had curves and was not afraid to show and flaunt them. She was an actress, a singer, and an American model. She was also one of the most renowned sex symbols in the history of America (Mulvey, 2017). Marilyn Monroe was one of the top paid actresses who marketed herself through her female sexuality through her curvaceous body which she loved and embraced every day of her life. In the 1950s, she became a star in Hollywood due to her confidence and influence.

If she were alive today, she would be the most influential woman in history since she had a lot of connection and money too. Instagram would be her favorite mobile application because most young people tend to visit the site and follow up on their role model's lives. Young individuals aspire to be like celebrities who they term as their role model. Instagram would also be an excellent platform for Marylyn Monroe to get more influence from brands such as clothes and other bodywear, especially to plus-sized women. They are more recognized by the fashion and modeling industry, unlike in the past years. Through Instagram, Marilyn would have empowered many young girls to love and accept their bodies and themselves the way they are since it leads to confidence and raised self-esteem.
