

Using the Chamberlain University library, search for a recent (published within the last five years) evidence based article from a scholarly journal that addresses one of the topics listed.

- Safety
- Delegation
- Prioritization
- Caring

2) Include the following sections. a. Introduction - 20 points/13% • Clearly establishes the purpose of the paper • Includes key points to be covered • Captures the reader's interest

3) Body of Paper - 60 points/40% • Complete, well-developed discussion of key points • Supports the purpose or main idea of the paper • Logical development of ideas with clear and accurate information • Ideas and statements are supported by three or more examples from personal and/or professional experiences • Provides own perspectives on the topic that is reflective, insightful, and original

4) Conclusion - 30 points/20% • Clear and concise • Summarizes key points discussed in the paper • Leaves a strong impression, message, or idea on the reader

. APA Format, and References - 25 points/17% • There is correct and appropriate use of margins, spacing, font, and headers • Document setup includes title and reference pages in correct APA format • Citation of sources included in the body of the paper uses correct APA format for direct and indirect quotes • All elements of each reference are included in the correct order • All information taken from the source, even if summarized, is cited and listed on the Reference page • All sources used are nursing journals published within the last five years