

Is it unjust for health care to be distributed, partly or even mostly according to people's abilities to pay? In your answer, identify and defend the general principles you believe should govern the distribution of health care resources. If your answer is "it depends", be clear about what it depends on.