

Assessment Task 3: Reflective Journal (30%)
Uploaded on Turnitin

Due Date: Week 12, Friday 26th October

You need to be keeping a reflective journal throughout the subject – paying attention to the online lectures, the online activities and participating in tutorials. That's where your reflections come from so it needs to be obvious that you have been participating all along and consistently.

The Task: In this task, you demonstrate personal understandings of your own cultural identities as well as your ethical positions and emerging teaching philosophies regarding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander education. While a journal will be kept throughout, you will select four 'best' journal entries to include as submission for this assignment.

Assessment Task 3: Reflective Journal (30%)

In this task, students demonstrate personal understandings of their own cultural identities as well as their ethical positions and emerging teaching philosophies regarding Indigenous education. While a journal will be kept throughout, students will select four 'best' journal entries to include as submission for this assignment.

Criteria	Strongly meets or exceeds requirements 80-100%	Soundly meets requirements 70-79%	Meets requirements 60-69%	Meets limited requirements 50-59%	Does not meet requirements 0-49%
Demonstrated engagement with topics in EDU1 ISE	The content in your 4 'best' journal entries demonstrate that you engaged deeply with content in this subject. You refer to specific material from lectures, tutorials and LMS and go beyond merely reporting what you heard or read.	The content in your 4 'best' journal entries demonstrate that you engaged with content in this subject. You refer to specific material from some though not all of lectures, tutorials and LMS	The content in your 4 'best' journal entries are fairly broad in relation to content in this subject. You report on some material from lectures, tutorials or LMS but in a reasonably general way	The content in your 4 'best' journal entries are vague. It is unclear whether you attended lectures, tutorials or LMS because your reflections are so general	You do not appear to have engaged with the content in this subject
10 marks	marks	marks	marks	marks	marks
Quality of personal reflection	Your personal reflections on weekly topics are thoughtful, well-informed and self-aware. You use the theories presented in the subject to analyse your own cultural position throughout.	Your personal reflections on weekly topics are thoughtful, well-informed and self-aware. You analyse your own cultural position in some entries	Your personal reflections on weekly topics are broad and you engage only minimally with theories on cultural identity presented in lectures and in tutorials	Your journal entries demonstrate minimal personal engagement with issues, and you seem somewhat unaware of your own personal cultural identity	Your reflections are very general or vague and it is not clear whether you have personally engaged with the subject
10 marks	marks	marks	marks	marks	marks
Written and academic skills	You have taken exceptional care and effort with your journal entries. They are well presented and demonstrate high levels of literacy	Your journal entries are wellpresented and engaging, though have not been properly edited for submission.	Your journal entries are readable, but have not been properly edited for submission	Your journal entries are acceptable, but poor presented upon submission	Your journal entries are below university standard with respect to literacy
10 marks	marks	marks	marks	marks	marks

Total Marks: /30

Comments: