Definition: Absolutely, "Addiction" means when an individual depends upon the thing, and he/she can't get by without it. The other term is "Decision," which is an action among picking and choosing a decision when there are, at any rate, two different options. Also, numbness is totally having no or fewer data or information. I will elucidate my points of view in the following entries.

Distinction: The addiction is a comprehensive condition which occurs when our cerebrum is fascinated to any substance or anything with that, he can't make do without it, that is "Addiction." sometimes it is associated with the numbness since the nonappearance of data is assigned "ignorance" For instance, in recent days the children and individuals of secondary school or the understudy don't consider quite a while and furthermore do not have information on medications and drugs. Furthermore, they are as yet dependent on this since they are expending it all the time. What's more, at some piece of life, there is a minute which we need to decide to pick the proper thing; however, again, the individuals just realize that it isn't useful for wellbeing. What's more, this circumstance is known as obliviousness is euphoria.

Dialectics: On the other hand, numbness can't be euphoria. Since now and then only a couple of data about the thing or a reason can make us fruitful.

Demonstration: We ought to consistently pick the best thing on the off chance that we know about it, and on the off chance that we are not, at that point, we should think about the outcomes which will be looked by us in the further and afterward follow up on it.
