

ACTIVE LEARNING TEMPLATE: Medication

STUDENT NAME _____

MEDICATION Fluticasaone

REVIEW MODULE CHAPTER _____

CATEGORY CLASS _____

PURPOSE OF MEDICATION

Expected Pharmacological Action

Potent, locally acting anti-inflammatory and immune modifier

Therapeutic Use

To be used for perennial non-allergic rhinitis

Complications

Headache
Pharyngitis
epistaxis,
Nasal burning

Medication Administration

To be administered Spray by the intranasal route only

Contraindications/Precautions

Maintain regular regimen.
Respiratory tract tuberculosis. Infections (eg, ocular herpes simplex).
If exposed to measles or chickenpox, consider anti-infective prophylactic therapy
Monitor for growth suppression in children

Nursing Interventions

Monitor degree of nasal stuffiness
Monitor growth rate in children receiving chronic therapy
Period examination for otolaryngologic examination for patient in long term therapy

Interactions

Avoid ritonavir

Client Education

Instruct patient to take drug as indicated instruct patient of procedure of administration

Evaluation of Medication Effectiveness

Up to 90% effective if administered correctly