Kaitlyn Taylor

The PIE paragraph is well put. The main point is stated at the beginning of the paragraph to show her view in regards to diabetes and the lifestyle changes that could save one's life. She further illustrates the importance of lifestyle change and lastly explains the outcome if the changes are not made.

Zowie Allen

Zowie's point is well thought out because it is out of the box. He used his knowledge of diabetes to illustrate the little girl's situation in school at her age such as visiting the nurse for a constant checkup and changing her diet. He explains the importance of having an EpiPen and a supportive family in the end to showcase his main point.

Ty Moreland

The main given point is correspondent to the school prompt and he provided an example to support his point by stating the number of people who died during the Vietnamese war to showcase the country's mood. Finally, he explained why the mood of the country was conflicting to show the significance of his argument.
