

y
by T R

Submission date: 19-Jan-2021 07:09AM (UTC-0500)

Submission ID: 1490015112

File name: social_justice_in_nursing_career.edited.docx (11.57K)

Word count: 217

Character count: 1190

Social Justice in Nursing Career

Since the era of Florence Nightingale, nursing is at the forefront of advocating for social justice (Florell, 2020). From a healthcare perspective, as a nurse, I must endeavor to offer the best services to individuals, regardless of their social status. I have the social and moral responsibility to champion inclusion, diversity, and moral responsibility in the health sector. Besides, championing health services delivery to the marginalized communities, a population that is always invisible due to their social status also counts (Habibzadeh et al., 2021). As a nurse, I can also achieve social justice by fostering healthy and positive working environments, which will enable me to offer the best patient care. To achieve this, I must endeavor to act on my professional training and display ethical conduct when performing my duties and responsibilities. In conclusion, social justice in the field of nursing takes many forms, but one important thing is to be involved in health policy and change, which is important in driving social justice and change in the field of nursing.

References

- Florell, M. C. (2020, September). Concept analysis of nursing activism. In Nursing Forum.
- Habibzadeh, H., Jasemi, M., & Hosseinzadegan, F. (2021). Social justice in health system; a neglected component of academic nursing education: a qualitative study. BMC Nursing, 20(1), 1-9.

ORIGINALITY REPORT

0%

SIMILARITY INDEX

0%

INTERNET SOURCES

0%

PUBLICATIONS

0%

STUDENT PAPERS

PRIMARY SOURCES

Exclude quotes Off

Exclude bibliography On

Exclude matches Off